

CAM Special Interest Group Complementary and Alternative Medicine

The Special Interest Group Complementary and Alternative Medicine (CAM SIG) was established in June 2010 during the 12th Conference of the European Association for Health Information and Libraries (EAHIL) in Lisbon and is a sub-group of EAHIL (<http://www.eahil.EU/about/subgroups.htm>).

The CAM SIG is a forum for information professionals in CAM libraries and information centres in Europe and all other information professionals with an interest in complementary and alternative medicine or related topics. Members work in different organisations and are from different European countries.

The CAM Special Interest Group aims to promote accessibility to information in complementary and alternative medicine that is held within libraries and information centers in Europe. A secondary aim is to reduce workload and bundle efforts in CAM libraries and information centers through co-operative projects and exchange of information.

We welcome new members. Membership is free. THE CAM Special Interest Group meets during EAHIL conferences. Our next meeting will be right before the 13th EAHIL conference (<http://sites-final.uclouvain.be/EAHIL2012/conference/>) on July 3rd, 2012 in Brussels, Belgium.
